Q. What is the best way to control broad leaf weeds this summer?

A. Although it is common practice to use glyphosate (Round Up) to kill broad leaf weeds, there are herbicides available to make the task much easier. By using a selective herbicide such as Kamba M you can avoid the hassle of having to spot spray, as the poison only has an effect on broad leaf weeds. 1 litre of Kamba M currently retails at $20-85 and with a recommended rate of around 30ml/5litres it is a very cost effective way to minimise weeds in your lawn.
